D'Youville Welcomes
FIRST LAY PRESIDENT

Lorrie A. Clemo, Ph.D.

DRIVEN TO SERVE OTHERS

The sight of a woman leading D'Youville College is not an unusual one. In its 109-year history, 14 women have guided the college.

What is different about D'Youville's new president, Lorrie A. Clemo, Ph.D., is that she is not a woman of a religious order. Dr. Clemo was introduced on Dec. 6, 2016, as D'Youville's 15th president, and the college's first lay leader. She recognizes this is a major change, as she succeeds longtime president, Sister Denise A. Roche, GNSH, Ph.D., who retired last June after leading the college for nearly 37 years.

What Dr. Clemo has in common with her predecessors is the desire to serve others. She sees herself as a servant leader.

"I am deeply driven to help others," she told D'Mensions. "I'm really excited about coming to D'Youville because I think it's a wonderful fit with the history and tradition of the college and its mission of service to others. That's what I have spent my entire career doing; that is what I am most passionate about."

Dr. Clemo is excited about assuming the presidency this January. "The first order of business will be to ask the campus to share their thoughts with me in order to get a clear sense of where the college stands today, what the needs of the college are in the days, months and years to come and to solicit ideas to inform what will become our new vision and goals for the future."

"I will also share my initial thoughts about what I see as strengths of the college that will help us sharpen and focus our mission. My goal is to position D'Youville as a model institution that ensures student success and impactful service to others, which is at the core of our mission. In the process, I want to build a stronger culture within the college community that encourages bold thinking and actions to improve peoples lives, and solve the complex challenges we face in our local and global communities."

She said that from this process will come new vision, new goals, and a renewed emphasis on creating compelling opportunities for students, faculty, staff, alumni and the surrounding community. She aims to lead D'Youville in exciting new directions, while remaining true to its core strengths including its rich array of innovative educational programs, excellent faculty and dedicated staff, and its penetrating culture of resiliency.

Interim President Dr. William J. Mariani and Dr. Lorrie A. Clemo

When asked what motivates her, Dr. Clemo responded that helping the community grow and prosper, and supporting individuals so they achieve their goals gives her direction and drive.

The presidency of D'Youville is a natural next step for Dr. Clemo, who said she wanted to lead an institution that mirrors her personal and professional values. D'Youville, she said, is the perfect fit.

"I really see D'Youville as the institution that most aligned with my commitment to a holistic, value driven Catholic education." She said she sees the college living out those values every day through its students, staff, faculty and alumni.

While talking with the Presidential Search Committee, she asked, "What do you want D'Youville graduates to be known for?"

They told me that they want them to be highly competent in their selected fields of study but more importantly, they want every graduate to be known as a compassionate and caring individual. That spoke to me more than any other college I have been involved with, and harkened me back to my days of catholic undergraduate education. It was clear to me that D'Youville lives and breaths its mission. Every D'Youville graduate, no matter what profession they choose or where in the world they live, is expected to be a caring and compassionate individual who makes an imprint on the world that is both important and impactful."

That's why I want to be here. I want to be part of advancing this community and increasing the number of people we touch, who through their efforts as D'Youville alumni, will make the world a better place."

D'Youville's Catholic identity is also very important to Dr. Clemo. "As a practicing Catholic, I will be working hard to protect the college's Catholic mission and identity, working very closely with the new vice president for mission integration, Rev. Dr. Robert J. Perelli, CJM. The Catholic heritage of D'Youville is at the core of its mission and together we will continue to preserve the values and traditions of D'Youville College as a Catholic institution, including being inclusive of all and abiding by our commitment to education for social justice and service to others.”

Dr. Clemo plans to devote a considerable amount of time during the early part of her presidency reaching out to D’Youville alumni. “It is important to connect with as many alumni as possible, to get a good understanding of the past in order to shape a future vision for the college,” she said. “I want to establish an atmosphere where old traditions and new ideas enrich each other. I’ll be asking alumni to share their personal stories and memories of college traditions to ensure that successful educational practices from the past will be carried forward, so that future alumni will be successful professionals and prepared to make a positive impact on the global community.”

The reputation of a college is built through its alumni. Meeting with alumni will give me an understanding of the impact the college has had on their lives and what we can do better going forward to enhance the student experience to not only build our reputation but to improve the personal development, fulfillment, success and happiness of our graduates.”

Dr. Clemo speaks with faculty member Dr. Marvin LaHood and Trustee Robert Bennett 2017 dawns as the start of an exciting new era for D’Youville College as Sister Denise hands off the presidency to Dr. Clemo, continuing a legacy begun in 1908 by Sister St. Stanislaus Burns, GNSH, founding president of the college.

109 years later, D’Youville College’s newest leader stands ready to serve the family of thinkers and doers working for the greater good.

MESSAGE FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT OF INSTITUTIONAL ADVANCEMENT

Kathleen M. Christy

GIVING THANKS

Thank you to the alumni and friends who invested their faith and philanthropy in D'Youville for one of the best fundraising years in College history in 2015-16. D'Youville is the kind of extraordinary institution where the financial investment of alumni and friends is an essential and nonnegotiable element of the successful business model.

Those who have benefited from a D'Youville education understand that the in-depth and well-rounded experiences are more expensive than tuition alone can cover and too valuable to be abridged. Philanthropic investments make it possible for D'Youville students to study with top-notch scholars in small groups; study and live among a diverse group of dedicated peers; engage in meaningful research, internships, international study and other experiential learning opportunities.

The great opportunities that D'Youville provides and the network of supportive alumni it sustains have been cultivated over 109 years through the loyalty, care and continued contributions of the college's graduates, faculty, staff and friends. Yesterday, today and tomorrow, D'Youville's culture values giving.

Because of this culture, those who are or will be a part of D'Youville are better individually and belong to stronger, more meaningful communities.

Those featured and acknowledged in this annual report represent the varied interests, passions, ways and means of giving that together make D'Youville great. These visionary donors provide unrestricted gifts, volunteer their time and skills, support faculty and academic programs, establish endowed scholarships and more. Their passions for D'Youville, like yours, lie in personal experiences with this extraordinary college, in relationship with professors and students in memories made and talents discovered through internships, clinical placements, service trips and research projects; and in the hopes and dreams for future generations of students.

Giving to higher education must be valued, protected and encouraged. When we give, we are gaining something truly priceless. May these examples of support stir your own memories and passions for D'Youville and inspire your involvement to preserve and improve the college. Thank you for everything you share to help D'Youville succeed!

THE D'Youville CAMPAIGN

FOR OUR STUDENTS — FOR OUR FUTURE D'YOUVILLE'S SUCCESS TO DATE

Since the launch of the capital campaign in November 2013, more than 5,000 alumni, community supporters, foundations, trustees, faculty and staff have shown an unwavering commitment to D'Youville College by contributing in excess of $16 million to date. In fact, an impressive 15% percent of the donors to the For Our Students — For Our Future campaign are D'Youville alumni.

As our campaign case illustrated, today, D'Youville College is moving forward with bold plans for progress. We will reach out to new groups of students, create new programs of study, and continue to develop our campus infrastructure. In doing so, however, our goal is not to transform the college. It is to pursue precisely the same mission we have always embraced, in ways responsive to today's world. This campaign is an investment in that work.

With the goal to conclude this campaign by November 2017, please help us reach our goal of raising $20 million. For more information on ways you can give, please visit our campaign website at www.thedyouvillecampaign.org.

Again, thank you for your continued generosity and support – please continue to give to our good work.

Wishes to you for a happy and healthy 2017!

CAPITAL CAMPAIGN PROGRESS

Through November 2016, alumni, trustees, community donors, foundations, corporations, employees and college leadership have honored our request of support by committing more than $16 million in gifts, pledges and cash.

D'YOUVILLE HOSTS PHYSICAL THERAPY REGIONAL STUDENT CONCLAVE

On Saturday, September 10, 2016, D'Youville College hosted the 2016 WNY PT/PTA Regional Student Conclave. Physical Therapy and Physical Therapy Assistant students from eight colleges, including D'Youville College, University at Buffalo, Daemen College, Niagara County Community College, Genesee Community College, Nazareth College, Utica College, and the State University of New York Upstate Medical University, attended the regional student conclave.

The keynote speakers were Matthew Hyland, PT, Ph.D., MPA and Jacob I. McPherson, PT, DPT, NCS, MSCS.

Dr. Hyland spoke on "Transforming Society: An Evolutionary Journey." A physical therapist with more than 24 years of experience as a clinician, private practice owner, educator and advocate, Dr. Hyland is the immediate past president of the New York Physical Therapy Association (NYPTA) and a member of the American Physical Therapy Association (APTA) board of Directors. He is committed to helping educate the next generation of physical therapists and frequently speaks on topics ranging from health care administration/management and health policy to issues in health care, ethics and orthopedics.

Dr. McPherson is the current legislative chairperson for the New York Physical Therapy Association (NYPTA) and a member of their board of directors, where he strives to advance and protect the physical therapy profession across New York State. Dr. McPherson spoke on "NYPTA 101: An Intro to Your Profession."

The conclave also featured discussions and presentations on a variety of topics throughout the day, including concussion, ACL, private practice, hippotherapy, aquatic therapy and military PT.

The WNY PT/PTA Regional Student Conclave was organized by a committee of students and professors at D'Youville. D'Youville students Patrick Barber and Jeff Spors were inspired to develop the event after attending the APTA National Student Conclave in the fall of 2015 in Omaha, Neb. At that conclave, the two developed connections with other students and began the brainstorming process to plan a student conclave in Western New York.

Faculty members Dr. Sarah Pictor, Dr. Patricia Nowakowski and Dr. Joseph Baumgarden were also on the planning team. With a combined, 25+ years of experience teaching and countless hours of physical therapy practice, ranging from outpatient care to pediatrics to neurology, they had developed connections with experts not only in their areas of expertise but in numerous other areas of physical therapy. They leveraged these connections to fill the conclave with the top presenters from Western New York.

Dr. Nowakowski said, "It was invigorating to see all of the energy during the many months of conclave planning, which blossomed into an interactive exchange of ideas and networking among the students and the guest speakers. At the conclave luncheon, we were honored to have Dr. Hyland and Dr. McPherson present at D'Youville College while they conveyed meaningful messages to the future doctors of physical therapy and physical therapy assistants."

The conclave was sponsored by the NYPTA. The luncheon was provided by D'Youville dietetic students under the supervision of Clinical Assistant Professor Linda Mocny.

In addition to the talks, attendees were able to network and speak to local representatives from G&G Fitness and Catholic Health. Proceeds from the registrations and a raffle held on the day of the event benefited a local organization, Stone's Buddies. Stone's Buddies, operates through Women & Children's Hospital of Buffalo, provides a network of resources to support children and families of children who are chronically ill. A donation of $1,976.00 was made on behalf of the 2016 WNY PT/PTA Regional Student Conclave.

THE ART & SCIENCE OF MISSION INTEGRATION

Rev. Dr. Robert J. Perelli, CJM, Vice President of Mission Integration

About 20 minutes after I was appointed the first-ever vice president of mission integration, the questions started: “What is mission integration?” and “What does a mission officer do?”

Let me try to answer those questions.

The Catholic Intellectual Tradition—the Church’s age old search for truth, beauty and justice—has a long and prestigious history in the United States. Foremost among its accomplishments are 261 Catholic colleges and universities founded by a variety of Catholic religious communities.

Since the leader of each college or university was always a member of the founding religious community, the mission was integral to the decision-making process. As one educator cleverly put it, the mission was “part of the DNA” of each college president. D’Youville College, founded in 1908 by the Grey Nuns, was no exception.

However, with the precipitous decline in the membership of all religious communities in the US, Catholic colleges in Western New York and around the country have transitioned to a new form of leadership.

While the office of president is now being entrusted to a highly credentialed and talented laywoman, college trustees created a brand new position—the mission officer—in order to preserve and promote the unique mission of each institution of higher education. Here at D’Youville this new office was given a certain gravitas by endowing the Sr. Denise Roche Center of Mission Integration and making the mission officer a vice president.

As vice president of mission integration, I serve as a member of the president’s council and work closely with the president and vice presidents of institutional advancement, academics, student affairs and finance. I am charged with bringing the mission to the faculty, administration, staff, students, parents, alumni and the local community. When faced with important decisions about academics, finances or outreach, the mission officer helps the entire D’Youville community ask how the mission influences their choices.

In the words of my job description, the mission officer and center develop a “consciousness of the Catholic Grey Nun mission and ensures its implementation and integration into the D’Youville community and the integration of the mission into the strategic plan.”

The end results of mission integration are well-educated graduates who have reached their highest academic potential and who are committed to the common good of the community.

Now that you know what “mission integration” is and what a “mission officer” does, you can see why I love my new job!

CAMPUS NEWS

CENTER FOR GLOBAL INITIATIVES

Ron Dannecker, associate vice president for global admissions and strategic partnerships, was eager to discuss D'Youville's new Center for Global Initiatives. It brings international student services, global admissions, study abroad, and the intensive English program (formerly English as a Second Language) all together under one roof.

Ron is especially excited about the intensive English program, which will allow D'Youville to expand international admissions and increase enrollment of international students.

Farewell reception for the five scholars from the Nursing School at Guangxi University of Chinese Medicine who visited D'Youville from September 15 to December 15, 2016. These scholars attended classes and met with faculty and administrators of our School of Nursing to discuss the details of a joint bachelor program in nursing. This program was officially approved by the Ministry of Education, the People's Republic of China on January 28, 2015.

Molly graduated from Miami University of Ohio with a bachelor of arts degree in sociology. She received her master's degree in higher education administration from SUNY Buffalo, and is now enrolled in the higher education administration doctoral program at The George Washington University with expected graduation in fall 2017.

RED, WHITE AND YOU REUNION WEEKEND

Classes ending in 1 and 6 celebrated milestone anniversaries during Reunion Weekend. A number of alumni descended on campus not only to become reacquainted with classmates but to explore all the changes to the campus.

On Friday, a welcome back reception was held on the second floor atrium of the Dr. Charles and Mary Schweitzer Bauer School of Arts, Sciences and Education building. D'Youville College administrators mixed and mingled with alumni while student ambassadors gave tours of the new building.

Saturday was a busy day of "tours." Many alumni explored Buffalo by taking a downtown walking tour or riding on an open-air autobus where they saw the city's historic buildings as well as Canalside and Buffalo's waterfront development. Many out-of-town alumni were surprised by the city's offerings. Student ambassadors led alumni on a campus tour which included some old favorites - Madonna Hall and the dorms in Marguerite Hall.

Alumni returned to campus on Saturday night for cocktails and dinner in the College Center, Blue Lounge. JoAnne Tymorksi Hess, president of the class of '66 addressed the attendees and included material from a similar speech she gave 50 years ago. In honor of the golden anniversary class of 1966, many songs from the 60s were played by the Mark Mazur Trio.

The weekend closed with Mass celebrated by Rev. Dr. Robert J. Perelli, CJM, in the Sacred Heart Chapel followed by a champagne brunch in Madonna Lounge.

A VIEW FROM THE BRIDGE

by Arthur Miller

March 3 – 26, 2017

The giant of American theatre remains without question Arthur Miller, who devoted his career to forging the tragedy of the common man. A View From The Bridge is such a tragedy. Miller wrote his play after hearing a longshoreman's true tale of a honorable man ruined by an obsession to which he himself was blind. It is a simple story - a dock worker whose code of honor depends on protecting migrants is felled by his love for his own niece - but out of the collision of ordinary, working people, Miller fashioned a mighty and tragic story of love, sex, betrayal, and human frailty.

THE FATHER

by Florian Zeller

Translated by Christopher Hampton

April 28 - May 21, 2017

A sharp, touching, and troubling play about the uncertainties that come with old age and the loss of memory. Hot from the West End and an award-winning run on Broadway comes Florian Zeller's The Father, a funny, troubling and heart melting play about memory and its failures in old age. After a long wait for rights, we're proud to announce the regional premiere will star David Lamb.

Performances:

Thursdays & Fridays at 7:30 p.m.

Saturdays at 3:30 and 7:30 p.m.

Sundays at 2 p.m.
