DYU-COM Transfer Policy

DYU-COM does not currently have any articulation agreements for incoming transfers from any colleges of osteopathic medicine accredited by the American Osteopathic Association's Commission on Osteopathic College Accreditation (COCA), or any other school of medicine accredited by the Liaison Committee on Medical Education (LCME). Thus, it is currently the policy of DYU-COM to not accept transfer students into DYU-COM.

DYU-COM shall however under proper conditions release a student's University transcript of completed courses when University policy allows [\[See Standard 1.4-3C – Confidentiality of Student Records\]](#) if a student requests to transfer out of DYU-COM to a different program. In this case, the requesting student must have settled all financial obligation to DYU-COM prior to transcript release.
